INTRODUCTION

Purpose

The primary purpose of this ninth edition of the South Carolina Foundation Directory is to assist grant seekers in their search for funds to support the programs and projects of their organizations. An attempt was made to include information on all of the active private foundations, community foundations, and grant-making public charities located within the state of South Carolina or registered in South Carolina, AND that also give in South Carolina. Foundations that are located or registered in South Carolina but do not give grants here have been excluded.

This is Part 1 of the Directory, which has only foundations that have indicated either on their tax return or web site that they accept proposals from nonprofit organizations.

Part 2 will be published later, and will include all other foundations in South Carolina, including those that do not accept proposals because they only give to preselected organizations. Part 2 will also include a list of foundations that have been deleted from the previous directory because they no longer exist or have merged with other foundations.

Methodology

Most entries were compiled from information found on 2007 to 2008 Internal Revenue Service tax returns. Each private foundation is required to file a form 990-PF annually. This form includes information on the foundation's income, assets, expenses, grants or contributions paid, grants approved for future payment, officers or trustees, address, and telephone number. Form 990-PF's can be accessed via the web at the following sites: www.guidestar.org or www.foundationcenter.org. Several of the larger South Carolina foundations publish annual reports and have web pages. When available these were used to supplement the information available on 990-PF forms.

Scope

It must be emphasized that information regarding a foundation's geographical emphasis and fields of interest is based solely upon examination of the lists of grants awarded reported by the foundation in its IRS return. In most cases, the foundations were not contacted; and thus, the information contained in this directory DOES NOT reflect any official direct policy statements on the part of the foundations themselves.

This directory is intended to be a starting point for individuals seeking information on the foundations included. Individuals are strongly encouraged to refer to additional sources of information before contacting the foundations.

Explanation of Entries

Entries are arranged alphabetically by the indexed version of the foundation name, with a statement at the top of the page as to whether the foundation does or does not accept proposals. The indexed version of the foundation name is also used in all the indexes. The indexed name starts with the family name, followed by the first names when it is a family foundation.

This is followed by the official name of the foundation as it appears on the tax return or web site, address and telephone number, when available, with additional parts of the entry clearly labeled to show:

- Web address (when available – only around 15% of foundations have web sites)
- Geographic Focus (where they give most of their grants, either at the county, state, or national level. Some entries may indicate a county and South Carolina, or South Carolina and National. This means that most grants are given at the local level, but some are also given either at the state level or nationally.)
- Notes (details on the foundation's mission, any restrictions, and how to apply for a grant)
- Subject Areas of Interests (what type of programs the foundations funds)
- Officers and Board Members
- Fiscal Year Ended (the date of the last tax return on record)
- EIN number (Employee Identification Number with the IRS)
- Financial Data (assets, grants paid in the last year, and number of grants funded)
- Sample Grants (usually lists all or the majority of the grants made the previous year)
- Date of last update of record

PLEASE NOTE that the telephone number given is sometimes from the line on the foundation's IRS 990-PF return which asks for the location and telephone number of the individual or office which keeps the foundation's books. In a few cases, this location is in a different city than that shown as the foundation's address.

The official address may be different from the address used for applications. This is because the official address may be the address of the bank or accounting firm which files the tax return.

LIBRARY RESOURCES AND SERVICES

Grants Research Collection at the South Carolina State Library

The South Carolina State Library is a Cooperating Collection designated by the Foundation Center in New York to receive and make available information on philanthropic foundations. The Grants Research Collection includes numerous reference works published by the Foundation Center and other publishers, periodicals on fund raising, a small number of foundation annual reports, and a wide variety of books on grant seeking and fund raising strategies, grant proposal writing, and the operation of nonprofit organizations.

The South Carolina State's Library hours are 8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Library's reference staff is available to provide assistance in using the Grants Research Collection and can answer factual questions on specific foundations. Some materials are available for loan through the Library's interlibrary loan service. For additional information on this collection see the library's web page: www.statelibrary.sc.gov/grants. Individuals planning to visit the State Library to use this collection are encouraged to telephone in advance and schedule a brief orientation to the collection: (803)734-8026.

Information Available at Other South Carolina Libraries

A copy of this South Carolina Foundation Directory is available free for downloading at www.statelibrary.sc.gov/grants, and may also be available at each county public library and academic library in South Carolina. Some of these libraries may also have available some basic publications related to grant seeking, fund raising and grant proposal writing.

The Anderson County Library, Charleston County Library, Florence County Library, Spartanburg County Library, and the Greenville County Library also serve as Cooperating Collections of the Foundation Center. As such, the libraries maintain a collection of foundation directories and related titles. Inquiries regarding these collections should be directed to:

www.yourfoundation.org

Geographic focus:

Calhoun County, Clarendon County, Fairfield County, Kershaw County, Lee County, Lexington County, Newberry County, Orangeburg County, Richland County, Saluda County, Sumter County

Notes:

This is a community foundation. Grants are made in all aspects of life: education, human services, health, arts and cultural, and civic. The Foundation accepts grant requests from nonprofit organizations recognized by the IRS as 501 (c)(3) organizations, public entities, or other charitable, educational, or cultural organizations. Other than scholarships, the Foundation does not make grants to individuals. The Foundation accepts applications at any time throughout the year. Grant deadlines vary. Applications vary by type of grant but usually start with a letter of intent. The foundation reviews the grant request and informs the applicant whether or not it should submit a complete proposal. The asset distribution committee evaluates the proposals and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors. The Board makes the final decision on all grant awards. For specific information concerning application requirements, contact the Foundation at the address above or go to their web site for specific grant and scholarship details and application instructions: www.yourfoundation.org

Grants are limited to organizations in the Foundation's 11-county service area including Calhoun, Clarendon, Fairfield, Kershaw, Lee, Lexington, Newberry, Orangeburg, Richland, Saluda and Sumter counties.

www.cfgreenville.com

Geographic focus:

Greenville County

Notes:

This is a community foundation that exists to enhance the quality of life of citizens of Greenville by linking philanthropic leadership, charitable resources, and civic influence with needs and opportunities in the community. The community foundation makes grants to other tax-exempt organizations to enhance community life through the support of a broad range of services such as health, education, religion, arts and humanities, and the environment. Some grants follow an open application process under published guidelines. Other noncompetitive grants reflect the charitable priorities of individual donors. These gifts are made from endowments, donor-advised funds, field-of-interest funds and scholarships. See their web site for complete information on grants available. Society for the Relief of the Families of Deceased and Disabled Indigent Members of the Medical Profession

16 Gibbes Street
Charleston, SC 29401
843-722-1554

Geographic focus:

South Carolina

Notes:

An operating foundation which provides financial assistance to families of deceased/disabled South Carolina physicians who are in financial need.

The Society undergoes a year-round search for the families of deceased or disabled SC physicians who are in financial need. There is no requirement that the families live in SC. While there are no applications in use, the benevolence committee evaluates the need of all recipients to confirm financial need, and, once confirmed, makes distributions on an annual basis. All members of the Society are urged to make the committee aware of any families in need.

Suite 205
Fort Mill, SC 29708
803-548-2002
www.thespringsclosefoundation.org

Geographic focus:

Chester County, Lancaster County, York County

Notes:

As of April 2009 the foundation has implemented a temporary shift in its focus. Until further notice, the Foundation will direct all of its efforts and resources to provide critical basic support – food, shelter and medical assistance – to organizations serving these needs. The Foundation will only consider funding requests from qualified nonprofit organizations that can effectively deliver emergency and basic support to citizens in Chester and Lancaster counties and a portion of York County.

Otherwise, the foundation has three major areas of program interest: Recreation & Environment; Public Education & Early Childhood Development; and Community Service & Health. Contributions are made to charitable and educational causes designed to improve the quality of life and well-being of the people in Chester, Lancaster and York Counties. For additional information on grant requirements and application forms, and also information on their no-interest student loan program, see their web site.

Subject areas of interest:

Religious organizations, Scholarships, Social services, Theater, Camps, Child abuse, Children/youth (Clubs), Children/youth (Homes), Children/youth (Programs), Children/youth (Scouting), Children/youth (Services), Church, Community development, Aged, Community services, Crime and violence, Disaster relief, Education (Adult), Education (Early childhood), Education (Elementary/secondary), Education (Higher), Emergency services, Fire departments, Food services, General charitable giving, Arts, Health care, Athletics, Mental health, Museums, Parks, Recreation

The Adele A. and Harold J. Westbrook Foundation, Inc.

3512 Robius Forest Way
Midlothian,VA 23113
804-594-0187

Geographic focus:

National

Notes:

The purpose of the Adele A. and Harold J. Westbrook Foundation is to provide grants, gifts and/or contributions to qualifying tax exempt organizations in support of general charitable programs throughout the United States. The Foundation will consider grant requests from appropriate agencies that will benefit the widest spectrum of the public, from education of young children to providing housing, food and medical care for those in need, and from time to time, special purpose programs, including those humane concerns which may be considered appropriate by the Board of Directors. In order for a grant request to be considered by the Foundation, the applying organization must be eligible by qualifying as a tax-exempt organization under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and classified as "not a private foundation" as defined under section 509(a). Applicants for grants must complete this application form and submit a copy of the applicant's LATEST ruling letter from the IRS establishing its current tax exempt status and showing the applicant's tax ID number.

Apply to Ms. Joan Clarke, The Adele A. and Harold J. Westbrook Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 664, Midlothian, VA 23113. Application form and guidelines are attached to current IRS return.
